

ADVANTAGE SOLAR: Save Your Wallet, Save the Planet

BY SON VU

We only have one planet Earth. And the use of solar panels to create electricity is one way we can be kinder to Mother Nature, by reducing the amount of emissions generated by conventional electricity. Instead of using fossil fuels, “Solar panels create green energy, while increasing the value of your home, reducing energy bills, and, of course, helping you do your part in cutting emissions,” said Chris Rhorer, founder of Advantage Solar, LLC, a Costa Mesa based company. Advantage Solar has helped residents throughout Orange County, Los Angeles and Riverside counties.

Solar panels create green energy, while increasing the value of your home...

Professionally, Chris has been in the roofing industry for eleven years, and specializing in solar installations for the past four years. He wants to help Mesa Verde residents learn why solar is better for the environment and your wallet. Not only does Advantage Solar offer a full selection of solar panels and equipment to power your home, but they can also help your business save money.

Chris said, “One day, your mortgage payment may come to an end when you own your house outright, but as long as you are wired in to the power company, you will continue to pay that bill until you make the decision to do something about it.” Advantage Solar will give you free upfront quotes to get you started.

Chris will listen and work with you to create the best solar set-up for you, including helping you determine if it’s better to finance or lease. He is passionate about finding the best fit for each and every one of his customers. “Advantage Solar gives people the power to control their home’s energy, while reducing their impact on the environment,” said Chris. “The company’s purpose is to create a sustainable future where everyone can access the power they need, whenever they need it. That future starts today.”
